

THE TERROR NIGHT

In Arquillos, a boy went for a walk every night. One day he found a book to his house. He opened it and it was empty there wasn't anything written on it. Each night the book opened and it wrote itself while the boy was sleeping. Later, next day, he tried to open it again it was, but impossible. It kept writing itself Halloween night arrived and, with effort he got it opened the book started to shine and started to throw pumpkins. The boy disappeared with the book. So each Halloween the boy started to scare a lot of people that insulted and humiliated a lot of people of the town. Each Halloween he had to pray for his soul.

ANTONIO QUESADA 1º B